"kookie love" is an epic tech-funk masterpiece coming from disko piggs bedroom. and again our strumica favorite friend achieves ultimate ass shaking and body breaking glory on this ep. first three original versions of kookie love are really deep and subtle from one side, just like his other production, but from the other makes u wanna move. innovative minimal disco with synthetic funky bass lines and gentle vocals... at the same time really dancefloor oriented with solid beat. the story is not finishing here. piggy gives us a surprise on dscfake003. he is coming up with a new harder alias on discofake called vancheck kkost, doing a kookie monster remix. we have to say that he goes a step further with this remix, showing up his harder and breaky side. massive kick is driving around, but the heavy funk is still here. like luomo producing rave on acid! this track is destined to be a underground rave hit!

bio: the project disko pigg started in 2005 by 25 years old artist from strumica - macedonia known as vancheck kkost (vane kostadinov). vane has been active as a producer for the past seven years, producing under various monikers mainly electronic music, including music for short experimental movies, theatre plays, radio & video commercials and jingles, dj mixes...disko pigg sound is truly inspired by deep house, disco, electro and funk music...
